ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT ELECTRICITY

energy4me.org

Electricity is a form of energy resulting from the existence of charged particles (such as electrons or protons), either statically as an accumulation of charge or dynamically as a current. It is a secondary energy source because it is converted from another (primary) source of energy, such as coal, natural gas, oil, nuclear, or renewable sources. Electricity is either renewable or non-renewable energy sources, but it is neither renewable nor non-renewable since it is a secondary source.

Depending on the generation source of electricity, electricity production can have significant environmental and health impacts. For example, thermal generation sources produce air pollutants that can cause significant harm to human health. The production of electricity can also contribute significantly to global greenhouse gas emissions. Globally, 40% of energy-related carbon dioxide emissions are from electrical generation. Renewable sources of electricity like solar and wind produce zero direct carbon emissions but only generate electricity on an intermittent or variable basis. Hydrocarbon resources like coal and natural gas, although carbon intensive, are the most convenient sources used to generate baseload power to meet consumer demand at any given time.

December 1, 2022

Greetings West Region Members

The Clubs should have their Board Members all set, don't forget to send Philana, Barbara, and myself a list of the new board members. Congratulation to all that have agreed to step up. Philana and I made a trip to Midland, Texas to visit their Club, the members that have stepped up to serve on the 2023 Board have a lot of ideas and they are excited but scared, we just encouraged them and told them that they have the reins and run with it, some may not like the new ideas but guaranteed in the end they will like all the new ideas. Let's encourage the new members to get involved, stand behind them and direct them.

Thanks to all the members that have signed up to serve on the 2023 ADDC Committee Chairs and Representatives. Last I heard there were still some openings. A form was submitted to the Club Presidents to forward to their members to sign up, if you haven't seen the form please contact your Club President, please do so as soon as possible.

The new AIMEE Contest rules, just a few changes, will be coming out in the next week. I hope that all the new changes will have all the Clubs excited to turn in an article or photograph. The due date will not change.

All the Clubs should have received the 2023 membership renewal. Please fill them out and have your President send a copy to me, Barbara, and Philana.

Again, I want to do an excellent job and your help and getting involved will help.

Please contact me if you have questions or concerns; I will get the info to you or tell you where to find it on the website.

I Wish all the Members a Very Merry Christmas! Pray for ADDC, Country, Friends, and Family.

HAPPY WINTER & STAY WARM!

Esther J. Greeyes
